DESCRIPTION

A beautiful country retreat located in the verdant hills above Positano in a village named Colli Fontanelle, whose access is from a country road lined with olive trees and flowers. The property stands in a very panoramic position, with stunning views of the Amalfi Coast both from the gardens and the villa. Air is fresher on this top part of the coast, specially at night, so air conditioning is not strictly needed.

The villa has been built using the local volcanic stone (tufo) and is carefully furnished with antiques, prints, watercolors and ceramic pieces that preserve the traditions of the Campania region.

Ground floor: outside area, big garden with green, palms, flowers and cactus (these might be dangerous for kids). Inside area: comfortable living room with working fireplace, dining room with seating for 10-12 people, fully equipped kitchen, master bedroom with king-size bed with en-suite bathroom with bathtub. Double doors open directly to a vine covered terrace on the edge of the garden with ample furniture for relaxing.

First floor: a double bedroom in brilliant yellow has a picture window with stunning views of the Galli islands with en suite bathroom. A single bedroom with an 18th century iron bed frame and an en suite bath.

Second floor: Two twin bedrooms. Each has an en suite bathroom with a shower. Access from external stairs from the terrace.

Cottage: it is in the garden, 100 meters far from the main villa. It has a sitting room with a sofa bed that can become a single bed and a double bedroom with en suite bathroom with a shower. The Cottage is never rented separately from the main villa, and it is available only in high season, from June through September. All double beds at the Villa can be divided into twin beds.
